Philadelphia, 10/21 1890

My dear Sam.

I nursed myself over Sunday and quietly being somewhat stormy continued to do so until this morn'g, feeling terribly afraid that I should get myself flayed up for a spell. Just before starting for the station, Slim brought yr letter of 12th to Mamma, and as Aunt Rachie was in the carriage with us, yr message to her was told at once - rec'd with great gratification & she requested me to say so and give you her love when I wrote you which I told Mamma I would do.
On reaching here I found yr letter of 15th - and acknowledge receipt of both at sometime, altho I shall write you only partially to day as I have an accumulation of letters. My enclosed letter to Mr. Cornell will work in. Please read and hand to him with explanation that I know that you are there, while he is sometimes away.
Your explanation of the 1st ch. ass. is very clear and Mr. C. did right to pay for subordinate pool. - I trust that yr new quarters are comfortable. Don't take cold this morn'g. - on yr part. - Give yr aff. father W. J. Thompson
